

International Medical Research, LLC.

We Want to Help Find the Best Treatment For You

Under the direction of Yong H. Tsai, M.D. CPI, the International Medical Research, LLC is able to accommodate even the most stringent medical research studies. Dr. Tsai is a leading board certified Internist, Allergist and Rheumatologist. He has over 20 years of experience in medical research.

The International Medical Research, LLC has participated over 40 research projects in the past six years.

We can provide EKG's, Pulmonary function testing, Phlebotomy, MRI, X-ray, nerve conduction testing (EMG) as well as infusion therapy in our facility.

We are proud of our new research staff who are highly skilled and very efficient. We guarantee quality documentation and eCRF entry as required by the study protocols and IRB.

Due to the large volume of patients we see in the practice, we are capable of meeting and very often exceeding the quota of patients required to enroll in the research studies.
